RE: Weekly VIX Futures Expirations Being Added in July 2015

CBOE Futures Exchange, LLC (CFE) will begin listing futures with weekly expirations on the CBOE Volatility Index (VIX Index) at 3:30 p.m. Chicago time (CT) on Wednesday, July 22, 2015.¹ The terms for weekly expirations of VIX futures and the Lead Market Maker Program for Weekly (Non-Standard) CBOE Volatility Index Futures Expirations will also become effective on that day and time.² Below is a list of the weekly VIX futures expirations that will be listed in July and the last trading day and final settlement dates for those contracts.³ If a contract trades during a portion of its final settlement date, a specific closing time is noted below. If no time is indicated below, trading in a contract on its last trading day ends at the close of regular trading hours for the contract.

¹ This is the start of trading for business day, Thursday, July 23, 2015.

² See CFE Rule Certification Submission Numbers CFE-2015-015 \(Weekly VIX Futures Expirations\) and CFE-2015-016 \(LMM Program for Weekly VIX Futures\) for further additional information.

³ The standard VX futures contract expiring on August 19, 2015 was listed for trading on November 24, 2014.

⁵ The Trade at Settlement (TAS) ticker symbol for weekly/non-standard VIX futures expirations maps to the VX futures symbol for that expiration week.
